

Although I am concerned about the liberal point of view always presented to me during program breaks,I am equally concerned about limits placed on XM Radio when the issue is a simple matter of offering traffic and weather at the local level.Why should traffic and weather be limited to privately controlled local media?.The same logic would then be applied to the internet.